

Statement Regarding Removal of Refactoring UI PDF

Dear Valued Readers,

It has come to my attention that due to a technical oversight on my platform, the PDF file of Refactoring UI became inadvertently accessible through search engine indexing. I hereby formally declare: Refactoring UI is a copyrighted design work authored by Steve Schoger and Adam Wathan, with all rights reserved by the creators and their publishers. The unintended distribution constitutes copyright infringement, for which I take full responsibility and sincerely apologize.

Corrective actions I have taken:

1. Permanent deletion of all related files from my servers
2. Immediate submission of deindexing requests through Google Search Console
3. Full audit of website assets to ensure compliance

I earnestly encourage everyone to access authentic content exclusively through the official website (<https://www.refactoringui.com/>). Respecting intellectual property not only protects creators' rights but sustains healthy innovation in our design community.

For any inquiries, please contact me via email on the website.
